Called McElwaine

Nasty Name.

McElwaine is a nasty name at the Cedarville Fair on Thursday there was the appearance of a lively time for a few minutes.

T. B. Andrew in passing Mr. McElwaine on his way to the sale out in too short and came near causing the latter's horse to be injured.

The owner took the matter up with Mr. Andrew when he reached the sale and was called a name that is common in Mr. Andrew's language, though not proper in any kind of a gathering.

Mr. McElwaine resented the term by landing on the boss' jaw with a mild tap of the hand. J. H. Andrew, mayor-elect was the pacemaker. T. B. Andrew has had a grudge against Mr. McElwaine for some years, dating back to the primary election trouble.

Will Purchase

Kinnane Property.

The counties of Greene, Madison, Champaign and Clark, comprising the district for the erection and maintenance of a tuberculosis hospital will take over the John Kinnane property on the National road, East of Springfield. The contract was signed Wednesday.

Some weeks ago trouble arose in the joint board over the selection of this property and the Greene county commissioners refused to take part. After the legal controversy had been settled by the Attorney General in that Greene county could not withdraw, the other members signed for the Kinnane property. The Greene county commissioners wanted the Ball property near South Charleston.

Case No. 19481,

CROP REPORT FOR STATE.

Ohio's wheat crop for the 1910 harvest, as estimated by the official correspondents of this Department shows but a small increase over the original area sown for the harvest just past, being reported at 1,721,300 acres as against 1,711,047 acres last year. The area seeded is such that even though the yield per acre should be far above the average, Ohio cannot hope to produce a normal crop. The condition of the growing plant is estimated at 88 per cent. compared with an average Early sown wheat is in a promising condition, but a greater part of the area was seeded late and on many fields the plant is just appearing above the ground, while reports of its poor condition are general over the state. Cool weather has seriously retarded its growth, and should we have an early winter there is grave danger that the plant will not have attained sufficient strength and growth to withstand its rigors.

The statistics on alfalfa show that the total estimated production this year was 12,134 tons in excess of the crop of 1908. The average number of cuttings and the average production per acre are the same as reported last year.

The area seeded to rye is estimated at 63,269 acres, 91 per cent in comparison with the area seeded for the 1907 harvest.

Corn prospects show an improvement of 3 per cent. during the past month, being estimated at 90 per cent. compared with an average. While some correspondents report that the corn is not husking out as well as anticipated, the results generally as to quality and quantity are most satisfactory, and the total production will exceed that of last year.

The total production of potatoes for the state is estimated at 12,371,018 bushels. Compared with last year this is an increase of approximately three million bushels.

Ownership of the International Live Stock Exposition, which will be held in Chicago from Nov. 27 to Dec. 10, has accomplished the seemingly impossible by again showing an increase in entries. Once more all past records have been demolished and once more we are brought to realize that interest is growing in this the greatest of live stock shows.

This leading exponent of the live stock industry—and that this great annual event is becoming more popular from year to year. Even though feeding operations have been exceedingly tight during the past year, we still find an increased number of entries in the cattle department. The draft horse exhibit will be the greatest ever seen in this or any other country. Horses, whose lineage dates back into the dark ages, will be seen in the ring beside the most splendid specimens of the English and Scottish types, whose equals have never before been brought together in such numbers in the history of the show ring. The number of exhibitors in the sheep department exceeds that of any previous year, and in quality their exhibits will far surpass anything ever seen here in the past, as the entries show them to contain some of the choicest importations made to this country in recent years. In the swine department all the leading types will again be represented and the quality will be superior to that of any show ever seen on this continent. All these and many other new features give promise of making the coming exposition the greatest in the history of this splendid series of events, and no one, be he ever so distantly connected with live stock—the right arm of our basic industry, agriculture—can afford to miss this exceptional opportunity for education, entertainment and a pleasure trip in one.

THEATRE NOTES.

The Coburn Players, who have gained much attention for their artistic principal subordinating everything in the performance to the dramatic requirements of the play, will appear at the Fairbanks Theatre, Springfield, Wednesday, November 17th. These players enact Shakespearean dramas and Percy Mackaye's classic, "The Canterbury Pilgrims." The members of the cast follow the principal of the leader, whose artistic theory is that nature should be adhered to in rendering classic pieces as well as in realistic dramas. The effect of this in the presentation of Shakespeare and other classics is said to be a revelation to the public. It makes plain and simple their theory, understandable the meanings of the classic dramas, which have been made obscure by the artificial methods followed in the past in interpreting them. This is particularly true in the comedies and finds complete illustration in Percy Mackaye's "The Canterbury Pilgrims." The opportunity to witness a performance of the Coburn Players is a rare one and should not be missed by anyone interested in the theatre.

The very name of the Wolf Hopper has come to mean a high-class order of theatrical entertainment with a superabundance of healthy and clean fun and the announcement that he will be at the Fairbanks Theatre, Thursday, November 18th, in a new song comedy, "A Matinee Idol," said to be the most successful play he has ever had, will arouse unusual interest. While in some ways Hopper's latest song comedy is different from anything that he has ever done before, it has everywhere been agreed that he has never had a funnier part than he has in "A Matinee Idol." Anybody who knows Hopper at all can readily imagine what a lot of fun he will get out of the part of an American travelling who finds himself dead broke in London and is unable to speak the language. In addition to the large number of company includes a number of players well known to the audience.

Ralph Bingham, the popular entertainer, is the second attraction on the lecture course, and will appear in the opera house on the evening of Nov. 20.

Harper Case Is Appealed.

The George W. Harper will case, which recently attracted so much attention in the Probate Court, was on Monday appealed to the Common Pleas Court. Application was made in the Probate Court to probate the will, which is supposed to have been lost or spoiled, and after careful examination of a number of witnesses, and close investigation of the law, Judge Charles F. Howard refused to probate the will, holding that the evidence did not show that the document was in existence at the time of Mr. Harper's death.

ROAD BUILDING IN OHIO.

Bills have been prepared by the Good Roads Association, which will be introduced in the legislature this winter, providing for a complete system of improved high-ways. The costs to be divided—60 per cent to be paid by the state, 25 per cent by the counties, 15 per cent by the township and 10 per cent by owners of abutting property. Ohio's natural resources are favorable to road building and popular interest increases as the matter is discussed. Zanesville Courier.

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

LIFE might be one grand sweet song if a woman could have a charge account without ever having her husband's attention called to the same.

It is hard to always tell the difference between good and evil and sometimes not wholly profitable.

For a life in which you do not need weighty brothers' advice.

Don't try to do too much nor too many people.

A man's idea of a good dinner is a simple little affair that tickles all of his gustatory nerves and requires only five minutes of his wife's time to prepare.

The size of a man's bank account may bear no relation to the soundness of his voice.

There may be some things that money can't buy, but no woman knows the shop that keeps them.

It is too bad that a man's soul mate can't also be his sole mate.

Marvelous is the optimist who can pay alimony cheerfully.

Snap Wanted.
I do not care for leading. I want a snap. I want a snap. I want a snap.

I think that I could sit without a bit of aid. And have my work unequalled. And, oh, how I would enjoy it. Just working at that trade!

As to remuneration. Most anything would do. Of course it should be ample. Enough to see me through. The presidential wages I'd gladly get in two.

As to the hours of labor. They should not be too long. The work would be nerve-racking. And I'm not very strong. Just make it half the evening. And I could get along.

If such a job were offered I'd jump at it so quick. That it would jar my molars. And, oh, how I would stick it! I'd take it in a minute. Without a single kick.

In Danger.
"She is going to marry a man with a title."
"Has she money?"
"No."
"Prospects of an inheritance?"
"Not any."
"Will he marry her?"
"He fell in love with her."
"He wants to be careful or they will throw him out of the duties' union."

Painful Gravity.
"Who was it discovered the law of gravity?"
"Newton, I believe."
"Mayhap so, but that bunch I was telling jokes to in the smoking car had absorbed it. If they weren't the original discoverers."

A BAPTIST ELDER
Restored to Health by Vinol

"I was run down and weak from indigestion and general debility, also suffered from vertigo. I saw a good liver preparation called Vinol advertised and decided to give it a trial, and the results were most gratifying. After taking two bottles I regained my strength and am now feeling unusually well." Henry Cunningham, Elder Baptist Church, Kingston, N. C.

Vinol is not a patent medicine—but a preparation composed of the medicinal elements of cods' livers, combined with a tonic iron and wine. Vinol creates a hearty appetite, tones up the organs of digestion and makes rich, red blood. In this natural manner, Vinol creates strength for the run-down, overworked and debilitated, and for delicate children and old people. For chronic coughs, colds and bronchitis Vinol is unexcelled.

All such persons in this vicinity are asked to try Vinol on our offer to refund their money if it fails to give satisfaction.

Scrap Book

The clever young man was wondering up and down the platform of an empty railway station intent on finding an empty carriage to the express, which was almost due to start, but in vain. Assuming an odd air, he stalked up to the last carriage and entered in a stentorian voice:

"All change here. This carriage isn't going."

There were explanations low, but deep, from the occupants of the crowded compartment, but nevertheless they hurried out of the carriage and packed themselves away in other parts of the train. The smile on the face of the young man was childlike as he settled himself comfortably.

"Ah," he murmured, "it's a grand thing for me that I was born clever. I wish they'd hurry up and start."

By and by the station master poked his head in the window and said:

"I suppose you 'it isn't going.' are the smart young man who told the people this carriage wasn't going."

"Yes," said the clever one, and he smiled.

"Well," said the station master, with a grin, "it isn't going. The porter heard you telling the people, and so he uncoupled it. He thought you were a director."

Three Gales.
If you are tempted to reveal a tale some one to you has told about another, make it pass. Before you speak, three gales of gold—
"Is it true?"
"Then, 'is it needful?' in your mind give truthful answer. And the next is least and narrowest, 'is it kind?'"

And if to reach your life at least, it passes, was also, besides, then you may tell the tale for fear. What the result of speech may be.

It Wouldn't Work.
St. Peter looked the newcomer over with a doubtful eye.
"You were a very prominent public man on earth, I understand," he said.
"I believe I was so considered," the newcomer affably replied.

"You were the subject of several interviews in which you gave utterance to sentiments of a decidedly atrocious character," said the saint.
"The moment" said the stranger, "I was seized by the throat."

One of Sothern's Jokes.
That inveterate joker, the elder Sothern, had made an appointment with Toole, the comedian, to dine at a well-known London restaurant. The hour of meeting was fixed, and Sothern arrived some few minutes before the appointed time. An elderly gentleman was dining at a table at some little distance from that prepared for the two actors. He was reading a newspaper, which he had comfortably arranged before him, as he was eating his dinner. Sothern walked up to him and, striking him a smart blow between the shoulders, said:

"Hello, old fellow! Who would have thought of seeing you here? I thought you never!"

The old gentleman growled a reply, and Sothern returned to his table, where he was presently joined by Toole, to whom he said:

"See that old boy? I'll bet you half a crown you dare not go and give him a slap on the back and pretend you have mistaken him for a friend."

"Done!" said Toole, and done it was immediately, with a result that broke up the dinner and left streaks of blue in the air of the room for a day.

Secret of Happiness.
I have lived to know that the great secret of human happiness is this: Never suffer your enemies to stay. The old adage of "too many friends in the fire" conveys an untruth. You cannot have too many. Poles, tongs and all—keep them going—Adam Clark.

The Doctor's Orders.
A lady whose husband seemed to be doing little but lie in the hammock and eat apples was asked by a sympathetic neighbor what the trouble with him was. "Doctors," she replied sadly. "No! he hasn't come into a fortune. A writer in Today's Magazine tells the story."

"You see," explained the wife, "he's been having some sort of matter with his stomach, and he consulted two different doctors about it. One told him to eat a ripe apple every hour, and the other said to rest an hour after eating, and then to try to do both."

Cheerfulness.
"Tis a Dutch proverb that 'paint ceases nothing,' such are its preserving qualities to dull climates. Well, sunshine costs less, yet it is finer pigment. And so of cheerfulness or a good temper—the more it is spent the more it remains."

A Sassy Corpse.
It was in a midnight interview with an importunate newspaper reporter that Chauncey Depew is told his famous story of the sassy corpse, which he applied to the reporter's own case. "A spiritualist had died," said he, "and his friends came to a clergyman and asked him to preach a funeral sermon, even though that was in conflict with their tenets. And he did so, as best he could. And when he got through the widow arose, announced that she had a communication from the deceased, and proceeded to tear the clergyman, his sermon and his sentiments to ribbons."

"I'm mighty sorry," said the spiritualist leader.
"I'm not," said the clergyman. "I've preached many a funeral sermon, but this is the first time I was ever asked by the corpse."

Epilepsy, Fits

Convulsions, or Spasms and St. Vitus' Dance are Nervous Diseases. Most cases can be cured by strengthening and building up the nervous system. To do this a nerve medicine is needed. Dr. Miles' Nerve will be found efficacious and satisfactory. It has cured many cases of these diseases and we believe it will cure you. We can give you names of many who have been cured through its use. Write for advice.

My son John had epilepsy for years, and after having him treated by specialists for over 2 years he still continued to have spasms. I am writing this for you because I concluded to try the Nerve. During June, 1906, I gave him a temporary three times a day, then in July I gave it as directed, and I could see that he was improving, the case just as it is hoping it will induce others.

Swell Styles for Winter

Overcoats are dominant when you frequent the fashionable thoroughfares or where the up-to-date man is a 'habitus,' because they have been made by us. Our fabrics are exclusive—our styles are popular favorites, and no one in Cedarville would be regarded as a man of fashion would have his suit or overcoat, his evening suit or Tuxedo made by any one but for tin, metal, paper, felt and rubberoid roofs. Is proof against the weather or rust. Absolutely non-porous. Will not crack, peel, blister or scale. Will not evaporate after once set. Is a fine water-proofing material. Contains no ingredients such as salt and lime which enter into the composition of the major part of the so-called roof and iron paints on the market to-day which have no elastic qualities and are destructive to metals and fibres, and are bound to crystallize any metal. It is germ proof. Send for circular and price list. Why not purchase the best when it costs no more.

ELASTIC ROOF PAINT

"ELASTIC PAINTS"

THE DALLMAN COOPER SUPPLY CO., Fond-du-lac, Wis.

RIEDLING PIANOS

embody every detail that can possibly add to the value of a Piano of the very highest grade. The low price at which they are sold astonishes those competent judges of Piano value. "Riedling" on a Piano means highest artistic results in tone, touch, durability and case design. Send for catalogue and name and address of our agent in your vicinity.

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

HAVING friends has its reverse side when weddings, birthdays and anniversaries loom up.

Anybody can work, but it takes a genius to make good at doing nothing.

One way to beat any game is to let it alone.

Perhaps both discoverers are right—the north pole may be twins.

It is easy enough to show the other fellow even if you can't see yourself.

Tapping a swelled head with a well chosen brickbat has sometimes been known to give great relief.

It is hard to go against an up and down proposition when you are doing your level best.

When the poet assured us that truth crushed to earth would rise again, there were no such thing as steam rollers.

A little leaving will do to hang a bluff on.

The Annual Outbreak.

Neigh! The sound of hazing

Resounds Throughout the land.

The horses Have assembled,

A noble Spartan band,

Prepared To charge the freshmen

Full tilt And double quick.

If they can find Some small ones

On whom It's safe to pick.

Once Every college season

Professors Take the floor

While they Announce that hazing

Shall be Allowed no more.

But their Announcements solemn

Have just about the same Effect as hostile rosters

Upon A baseball game.

They fuss And fume

Against it, But boys are going

To have And snarl

The other fellow While there are

Cracks in the wall.

What's it education

That breeds Such

Ignorance.

At certain stages

They're rather

Hazy than eat.

Several Drawbacks.

"I was out in the country the past summer, and it was simply awful."

"What was the matter?"

"Why, the people ate with the farm hands."

"Shocking!"

"And they didn't dress for dinner. But that isn't all. There is one other thing they do that might make them ineligible for society."

"What is that?"

"They pay their bills."

They'd Never Make Up.

"A bride and groom in France are planning to take a honeymoon trip in an airship."

"I hope they haven't quarrelsome dispositions."

"Why?"

"Because I'd hate to hear of their falling out."

His Own Medicine.

"Who invented alarm clocks?"

"Want to erect a monument to his memory?"

"No, but I would like to make a few remarks, if I were equal to the occasion, that would make him turn over in his grave."

Hill Fellow.

"What are you doing?" said the bum to the young blade.

"Sowing my wild oats," replied the Y. B.

"What are you doing?"

"Harvesting mine," returned the beaten bum.

Of Course.

"What's the difference between boys and eggs?"

"I should say so."

"Say what?"

"Boys get too fresh, but eggs never do."

Appreciative Audience.

"I have some tickets for grand opera that I cannot use. Do you know anybody who would appreciate them?"

"Sure. I have a friend who is deaf and dumb."

Help to Eyesight.

When little May has money And city lols and farms, Though she is plain and homely, A count can see her charms.

Certainly.

"Do have a little charity."

"What for?"

"What for? For goodness' sake!"
